Subject: Animas River State Agency Situational Awareness Call - Monday, August 10-1:30pm

All

At 1:30 p.m. today, August 10, the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment is hosting a conference call to brief listeners on the response to the release of contaminated material from the Gold King Mine into the Animas River. Your agency is invited to call in if you have an interest in the status of the situation.

The agenda for the call will begin with status reports from the state agencies involved in the response, beginning with the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management (DHSEM) and CDPHE's Water Quality Control Division. Others invited to provide status reports include federal and local agencies such as the San Juan Basin Health Department, based in Durango. By this time, DHSEM expects to have more information on the state's disaster declaration.

A maximum of 300 participants can call in. If you have multiple staff members who wish to listen, please coordinate your participation and use one phone line to call. If your agency can provide additional information, you will be asked to contribute as well. Until that time, please keep your telephone line on "mute" to avoid interference with the person reporting. Do not put the call on hold, which can trigger automated messages that are broadcast to all listeners.

I'm sure I've missed some folks, so feel free to forward this message to pertinent individuals.

Below you will find an agenda and the call in information for this afternoon's call.

Thanks and have a good day.

Greg
